

Chapter 12

Deindustrialization and the Rise of Service Industries

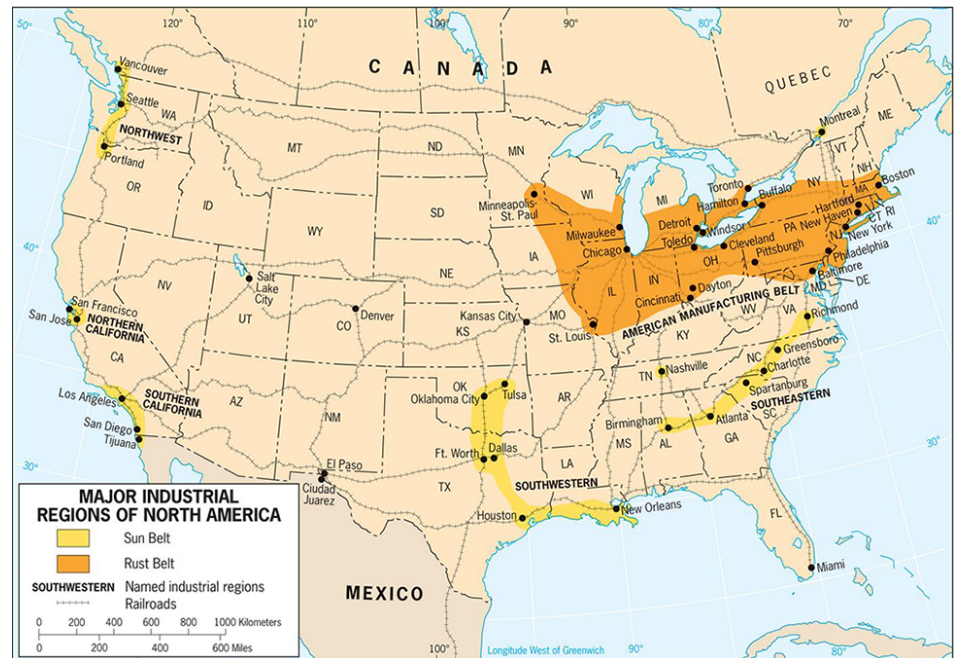

Industry and Services 5

Note: all of the following information in addition to your reading is important.

Influences on the Geography of Contemporary Manufacturing

* The following can be answered using both the text and video.

- Define: postindustrial - _____
- Discuss the difference between low cost low benefit, and high cost high benefit - _____
- Describe TWO changes in regions - or places - that have experienced deindustrialization - _____
- Define: Rust Belt, and give ONE example of a place in this region - _____
- Define: Sun Belt, and give ONE example of a place in this region - _____

- Give several examples of tertiary activities, and describe locational influences on their general locations - _____

- Give several examples of quaternary activities – _____

- Describe locational influences on the general location of quaternary activities that require a high level of interpersonal contact - _____

- Describe locational influences on the general location of quaternary activities that do NOT require a high level of interpersonal contact - _____

- Give several examples of quinary activities, and describe locational influences on their general locations - _____

- Define: high-technology corridor, and give ONE example - _____

- Define: technopole (using the term “growth pole”), and give ONE example – _____

- Discuss how many multinational technology firms conduct business throughout the world - _____

- Discuss how tourism has become the world’s largest service sector industry – _____

- Describe ONE vulnerability of older industrial areas with respect to changes and adjustments - _____

- Describe ONE vulnerability of service industries with respect to changes and adjustments - _____

